
ALL-IN-ONE PERMIT DATA

Make more informed investment decisions

We have more than 2.8 million all-in-one permits at address level. This provides you with insight into the number of requested, granted and/or refused building and demolition permits which have been issued to companies and private individuals. Our information is always up to date. The permits are updated daily and recorded historically. The permits vary from felling trees to placing dormer windows and demolishing buildings. All types of announcements from Municipalities and Provinces are available. This data can be used, among other things, for market research, real estate valuation issues and risk calculations.
