
EMERGENCY SERVICES DATA

Insights into neighborhood safety

We keep track of all 112 reports in the Netherlands since 2010. A database has now been created with several hundred thousand registrations. This data is continuously updated in real time. For example, per postal code it is clear to see when the police, ambulance and fire departments had to turn out. This enormous history of 112 reports makes it possible to perform accurate analyses. Which makes research and prevention of domestic burglaries and and/or shoplifting possible.
